GDPR Data Subject Rights

Under the GDPR, in certain circumstances, a UK, Swiss or EEA-resident Data Subject has certain individual rights with respect to the Personal Data that we hold about them. In particular, you may have the right to:

- Request access to any data held about you;
- Ask to have inaccurate data amended;
- Request data held about you to be deleted, provided the data is not required by BIRKMAN to perform a contract, defend a legal claim or to comply with applicable laws or regulations;
- Prevent or restrict processing of data which is no longer required; and

- Request transfer of appropriate data to a third party where this is technically feasible.

Additionally, in the circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your Personal Data for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

You will not have to pay a fee to access your Personal Data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request for access is clearly unfounded or excessive.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us using the contact details set out under the “Contact and Complaints” heading above. We may need to request further information from you to help us confirm your identity to help facilitate your request. This is a security measure to ensure that Personal Data is not mistakenly disclosed.

Complaints to Local Authorities

As a resident of the EEA, Switzerland or UK, you are also entitled to direct any complaints in relation to our processing of your Personal Data to your national or local data protection supervisory authority.

You may submit requests for access or erasure of your personal information by contacting us at privacy@birkman.com

Individuals who submit requests for access or erasure of personal information will be required to verify their identity by answering certain questions. We will not disclose or delete any information until identity is verified.

If you are making a request for access, we may not be able to provide specific pieces of personal information if the disclosure creates a substantial, articulable, and unreasonable risk to the security of your personal information, your account with us, or our systems or networks.

If you are making a request for erasure, we will ask that you confirm that you would like us to delete your personal information again before your request is addressed.

You may designate an authorized agent to submit a request on your behalf by providing that agent with your written permission. If an agent makes a request on your behalf, we may still ask that you verify your identity directly with us before we can honor the request.

Agents who make requests on behalf of individuals, will be required to verify the request by submitting written authorization from the individual. We will not honor any requests from agents until authorization is verified.
